Swami Vivekananda explains this in simple ways: “There is continuity of mind as the Yogic call it. The mind is universal. Your mind, my mind and all these little minds are fragments of that universal mind, little waves in the ocean; and on account of this continuity, we can convey our thoughts directly to one another” (Safaya, 1976).

CONCLUSION

Human mind is endowed with the power to know about the past, present and the future, at will. The inner depth of consciousness in human mind is a repository of divine potentials that could be experienced, aroused and used by dedicated endeavors. Precognition and clairvoyance are reflections of spiritual refinement and evolutions of these potentials of human mind. In the book with title “Mind and Super-mind” describe that the yogi or the tantric arouses the Agya Chakra (the lotus in between the two eyebrows) to attain clairvoyant power (Panda, 1996).

Therefore, after summarizing the above mentioned facts and thinker’s views on Agya Chakra as an extrasensory center, if one should put great effort to activate their Agya Chakra by deep contemplation and meditation, one can aroused the hidden power of mind and become the master of a lot of divine potentials.
